You can file your return online at www.ird.govt.nz (search keyword: IR3NR 2016).

If you lose your return, you can download a copy from our website. Please don't use anyone else's preprinted copy.

Non-residents

We've sent you an IR3NR return pack because our records show you as a non-resident for tax purposes.

This generally means you haven't been personally present in New Zealand but have earned income from New Zealand sources.

If you're uncertain about your residency status please see our guide New Zealand tax residence (IR292).

Who has to send in an IR3NR income tax return?

You must complete and send in an IR3NR if you were a non-resident for the full year but received income from New Zealand. For example:

- interest, dividends, taxable Māori authority distributions or royalties*
- rents
- earnings from self-employment
- directors' fees for services performed in New Zealand
- income from an estate, trust or partnership
- superannuation for past services in New Zealand (this may be exempt if a double tax agreement applies).

You'll also need to file an IR3NR if you have losses or excess imputation credits carried forward from the previous year.

* You probably won't have to fill in a return if your only income is from interest, dividends, or royalties, and NRWT was deducted at the correct rate - see page 6.

Part-year non-residents

If you were a non-resident for part of the year between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, you have to complete an IR 3 and make a list showing your income earned as a resident and as a non-resident. Staple this list to the top of page 3 of your IR3 return.

If you need an IR3 return and/or don't need to file an IR3NR please contact us - see page 3.

Your return is due to us by 7 July 2016

If you have to fill in a return and you don't send us one, we'll charge a late filing penalty - unless you get an extension of time.

Income year

The information in this guide is based on the tax year 1 April 2015 to 31 March 2016. If your income year is different you can still use the guide, but work out your income and expenses for your income year. If you need more information, contact us - see page 3.

How are non-residents taxed?

In an individual's annual assessment, NRWT is assessed on income from interest, dividends and royalties - see pages 7 to 10. All other income is added up and tax is calculated at the current tax rates.

The two amounts of tax are added together. Credit is then allowed for any tax deducted by the payer of the income, eg, NRWT, PAYE, RWT on dividends, Māori authority credits, schedular payment credits and tax paid by trustees.

Questions 1 to 6 Personal information

This information helps us to contact you. Please make sure we have your details exactly right. If you've changed your name or address, let us know so we can update our records. You can also update your personal information in your myIR account.

Postal address

If you use your tax agent's postal address leave this address panel blank, even if your postal address has changed. Your agent will tell us of any change of address when updating their client list.

If your address is a New Zealand PO Box number, please show your box lobby if you have one. If you're unsure of your box lobby number please contact New Zealand Post.

Date of birth

We ask for this so we don't mix up people with the same name.

Question 7 Bank account number

The fastest and safest way to get any refund is to have it direct credited to your New Zealand bank account. If your bank account number isn't preprinted on the return form, write it in Box 7.

Question 8 New Zealand Superannuation (NZ Super)

If you received standard NZ Super during the year, you must include it in your return. Work and Income deducts tax from payments to you. Copy the details from your summary of earnings (SOE) to Question 13 of your return. For more information about the SOE - see page 11.

NZ Super paid to you as a resident of another country is known as "portable New Zealand Superannuation". Work and Income doesn't deduct tax from payments of portable superannuation when it's paid to you, and you don't have to include it in your return.

For information about pensions, please see page 11.

Non-resident passive income

NRWT

NRWT is deducted from a non-resident's New Zealand income. The types of income (non-resident passive income) and the maximum rates of NRWT are:

- dividends 30%
- interest 15%
- royalties 15%.

Expenses can't be claimed against non-resident passive income.

Note

If you're a non-resident and have a "fixed establishment" in New Zealand, interest isn't liable for NRWT but you have to include it in your return. A fixed establishment is a fixed place where a non-resident has a business, such as a shop, farm or factory. It doesn't include property that produces rental income only.

New Zealand has double tax agreements (DTAs) with a number of countries. These agreements may allow for different rates, you can check the rates on our website www.ird.govt.nz (search keywords: NRWT rates).

If you need more information you can check NRWT on our website or contact us.

Use the "other countries" rates if:

- the country you live in isn't on the list
- you don't know your country of residence
- you have no country of residence.

You don't need to send in a return if:

- your only New Zealand income was from interest, dividends or royalties, and
- NRWT has been deducted at the correct rate, or
- If your interest income has been zero-rated under the approved issuer levy (AIL) rules. See page 8 for details.

If you aren't sending in a return, please write to us, see page 3 so we can record that:

- NRWT/AIL has been deducted correctly, or
- you're no longer a non-resident, or
- you no longer receive any New Zealand-sourced income.

This will save us from contacting you later. Remember to write your name and IRD number on the letter.

Question 9 New Zealand interest

Did you receive any New Zealand interest between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016:

- in cash or by cheque
- credited or added to your account
- compounded and added to your investment
- earned by a partnership, estate or trust, or from Inland Revenue?

You must show all New Zealand interest you receive. Include interest from banks, building and investment societies, credit unions, other securities and any loans you've made. Also include interest from Inland Revenue.

Don't include any interest that has:

- had NRWT deducted at the correct rate
- been zero-rated under the approved issuer levy rules (AIL). See page 8 for details.

Interest on broken term deposits

If you've broken a term deposit during the year, you may have negative interest to account for. This is interest you've repaid on the term deposit. It may reduce the amount of interest you need to declare on your return.

If you broke the term deposit in full, or it was business-related, deduct the negative interest from the gross interest amount on your New Zealand NRWT withholding certificate (IR67). Deduct the allowable negative interest component using the worksheet below before entering the gross amount at Question 9B.

Worksheet: Interest on broken term deposits

Copy your gross interest from your NRWT withholding certificate to Box 1.

1	▶	$.

Print any negative interest you've paid in Box 2.

2	▶	$.

Subtract Box 2 from Box 1 and print the answer in Box 3. Include this amount in the total shown at Box 9B on your return.

3	▶	$.

What to show in your return

The interest payer will send you a statement or an New Zealand NRWT withholding certificate (IR67). It will show the gross interest paid and the amount of tax deducted.

From each interest statement or certificate, copy the name of the payer, add up the amounts of tax deducted and the gross interest and print the totals in the boxes at Question 9.

Don't send us your interest statements or certificates, but keep them in case we ask for them later.

RWT

If RWT was deducted from your interest, include it in the RWT column. Tell the organisation paying you interest you're a non-resident and the country you're resident in - the payer will then deduct NRWT at the rate for that country.

NRWT payable on your interest

Refer to www.ird.govt.nz (search keywords: NRWT rates) to find the NRWT rate on interest for your country of residence. Multiply that rate by the amount in Box 9B of your return and print your answer in Box 9C.

The credits attached to the gross interest will be offset against the NRWT payable.

Approved issuer levy (AIL)

From 1 August 1991 "approved issuers" (financial institutions) pay interest to non-residents free of NRWT. They have to pay a levy for the right to issue securities subject to a zero rate of NRWT.

The levy, known as approved issuer levy, is calculated at a rate of two cents for every dollar of interest paid for the security.

Note

Don't include in your return any interest zero-rated under the AIL rules.

Interest of $20 or less

If the total interest you received for the year is $20 or less, you may not receive a certificate or statement, but you still need to show the gross interest and NRWT. Get the details from your bank statements.

More than three certificates

There's space in the return for details from three interest statements or certificates. If you have more than three, add up all the NRWT and gross interest amounts from all your certificates and print the totals in Boxes 9A and 9B.

Interest on joint accounts

If you hold a joint account, you must show your share of the interest in your return.

Interest paid or charged by Inland Revenue

If Inland Revenue pays you interest, include the interest received in Box 9B for the income year you received the interest.

If you paid Inland Revenue interest, include it as a deduction in the income year the interest is paid.

Question 10 New Zealand dividends

Did you receive any New Zealand dividends between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016?

Show them at Question 10. Include dividends earned by a partnership or estate or distributed by a trust.

Do not include dividends received which are fully imputed and from a company in which you have a 10% (or greater) direct voting interest. The NRWT rate on these dividends is 0%.

Don't include any dividends that have had NRWT deducted at the correct rate.

Note

If you received fully imputed cash dividends or full payments for any foreign dividends credited, the rate of NRWT is 15%.

Credits attached to dividends

A New Zealand company may attach several types of credits to dividends.

- NRWT - 30% or 15% of the dividend is deducted when it's paid to you.
- Payment for a foreign dividend - these are credits on tax payments made for dividends the company received from overseas.
- Imputation credits - a portion of the tax paid by the company on its profits.

You can't claim imputation or franking credits from dividends paid to you while you're a non-resident but you can claim any excess imputation credits you received while you were resident in New Zealand because these can be offset against tax payable on "other income". If you have excess imputation credits to bring forward - see page 18.

- If the dividend does not have NRWT deducted, RWT would generally be deducted at 33%.

What to show in your return

From each dividend statement, show at Question 10:

- the name of the company
- the dividend credits (by adding up the NRWT, payment for a foreign dividend and RWT)
- the gross dividend (by adding up the dividend paid, NRWT, payment for a foreign dividend and RWT).

Add up the amounts and print the totals in Boxes 10A and 10B.

Don't include any imputation or franking credits shown because they don't apply to you.

Don't send us your dividend statements, but keep them in case we ask for them later.

RWT

If your dividends have had RWT deducted, include this in Box 10A. Tell the payer you're a non-resident and the country you're resident in. The payer will then deduct NRWT at the rate for that country.

NRWT payable on your dividends

Refer to our website at www.ird.govt.nz (search keywords: NRWT rates) to find the NRWT rate on dividends for your country of residence. Multiply that rate by the amount in Box 10B of your return and print your answer in Box 10C.

The credits attached to the gross dividends will be offset against the NRWT payable.

Shares instead of dividends

If you received shares from a taxable bonus issue or a non-cash dividend, include them as income at Question 10. Write the amount as if you received dividends instead of shares.

More than three statements

There's space on the return for details from three dividend statements. If you have more than three dividend statements, add up all NRWT, payment for foreign dividends or RWT and gross dividends from all your statements and print the totals in Boxes 10A and 10B.

Question 11 New Zealand royalties

Did you receive any New Zealand royalties between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016 that were paid, credited or otherwise dealt with on your behalf?

Show all royalties from New Zealand sources at Question 11, including royalties received by a partnership, estate or trust.

Don't include royalties that have had NRWT deducted at the correct rate.

What to show in your return

From each royalty statement, copy the total amounts of tax deducted and the gross royalties to the boxes at Question 11.

Don't send us your royalty statements, but keep them in case we ask for them later.

NRWT payable on your royalties

Refer to our website at www.ird.govt.nz (search keywords: NRWT rates) to find the NRWT rate on royalties for your country of residence. Multiply that rate by the amount in Box 11B of your return and print your answer in Box 11C.

The credits attached to the gross interest will be offset against the NRWT payable.

Other income

Question 13 New Zealand income with tax deducted

Did you receive any of these types of income from New Zealand sources between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016:

- salary or wages
- schedular payments
- accident compensation payments related to earnings
- standard NZ Super
- taxable pensions, annuities or superannuation?

What to show in your return

In late May 2016 we'll send you a summary of earnings (SOE) for the year 1 April 2015 to 31 March 2016. Use this to complete your return.

If you had income from salary, wages, benefits, taxable pensions or schedular payments, add totals 11E and 12A from your SOE and print the total in Box 13A. Add totals 11B and 12B and print the total in Box 13B.

If you have extinguished tax credits for payroll donations, the PAYE deducted figure on your SOE has been adjusted to show this.

You don't need to attach your SOE to the return unless you're making changes to it.

Pensions

Don't include these pensions or annuities in your return:

- non-taxable pensions or annuities from superannuation schemes registered with the Financial Markets Authority (eg, government superannuation) or life insurance funds - the tax on these is already paid by the fund
- completely tax-free pensions, such as war pensions or a portable veteran's pension
- portable NZ Super.

Note

Portable NZ Super or portable veteran's pension paid while residing overseas are tax exempt and will not need to be included on your return. For more information go to www.ird.govt.nz (search keywords: Veterans and income).

Schedular payments

If you received any schedular payments, read the notes on page 17 to see if you can claim expenses.

If you're registered for GST, your gross schedular payment may include GST. Enter the GST-exclusive amount at Question 13B.

Question 14 Māori authority distributions

Māori authorities can make various types of distributions.

Fill in Question 14 if you received any taxable Māori authority distributions between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016. The Māori authority that paid you the distributions sends you a statement.

Credits attached to distributions

The Māori authority may attach a credit to the distribution it makes to members. This credit will be classified as a Māori authority credit and is part of the tax already paid on the profits, so the distributions aren't taxed twice.

What to show in your return

Your Māori authority distribution statement shows:

- the amount of the distribution made to you, including what portions are taxable and non-taxable
- the amount of Māori authority credit.

These amounts, not including any non-taxable distributions, will need to be transferred to the relevant boxes at Question 14.

Example

A Māori authority makes a pre-tax profit of $10,000. It pays tax on this profit of $1,750 (Māori authority tax rate of 17.5%) and distributes the entire profit to its 10 members. So, each member will receive $825 as a cash distribution and $175 of Māori authority credits.

Each member of the authority who has to file an IR3NR return would show the following information at Question 14:

Box 14B - $1,000 (made up of $825 + $175)

Box 14A - $175

Non-taxable distributions

Any other distributions received from a Māori authority, which are not taxable in the hands of a Māori authority member, don't need to be included in the IR3NR return. These amounts are classed as non-taxable distributions and can't have credits attached.

For more information see our guide Māori authorities (IR487).

Question 15 New Zealand partnership income

If you received any partnership income between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, show it at Question 15.

What to show in your return

Print your share of the partnership's tax credits in Box 15A. Print your share of the partnership's income in Box 15B.

If your partnership income includes:

- interest and any tax credits, show it at Question 9
- dividends and any credits, show it at Question 10
- royalties and any tax credits, show it at Question 11.

Expenses

You may be able to claim expenses against your share of the partnership income not claimed in the Partnership's income tax return (IR 7), eg, interest on capital borrowed to purchase a share in a partnership. Claim these expenses at Question 23.

Losses from limited partnerships

If you're claiming a loss from a limited partnership and you need help working out the amount you can claim, please go to www.ird.govt.nz

Question 16 New Zealand estate or trust income

If you received estate or trust income between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, show it at Question 16.

There are three types of estates or trusts:

- complying
- foreign
- non-complying.

Only include the trust's distributions to you as beneficiary income. Don't include any other sort of distribution.

For more information see our guide Trusts' and estates' income tax rules (IR288).

What to show in your return

Print your share of the tax paid by the trustees in Box 16A and the estate and trust income in Box 16B.

If your estate or trust income includes:

- interest and any RWT, show it at Question 9
- dividends and any credits, show it at Question 10
- royalties and any tax credits, show it at Question 11.

Note

There's a special rule for non-resident beneficiaries who become residents again. It applies if you became resident in New Zealand within five years of leaving, and you received beneficiary income or taxable distributions from a non-complying or foreign trust while not resident. That income is assessable on the day you became a New Zealand resident again. Contact us, see page 3, if this situation applies to you.

Question 17 Look-through company (LTC) income

If you received any tax credits and/or income from an LTC write the details at Question 17.

Note

The LTC will normally supply information about non-allowable deductions and any other information required to complete your return.

Deductions (expenses) against LTC income are limited if the owner (shareholder) doesn't have sufficient owner's basis (equity) in the company.

If you had any non-allowable deductions brought forward from last year, you may be able to claim some or all, of the brought forward amount this year. Print the amount claimable in Box 17D.

Don't include:

- interest and RWT - include these at Question 9
- any imputation credits, dividend RWT and gross dividends - include these at Question 10
- any overseas income.

What to show on your return

Add up all other tax credits received from the LTC and print the total in Box 17A. Add up all LTC income not already included elsewhere and print the amount in Box 17B. Add up all non-allowable deductions this year and print the amount in Box 17C. Add up all prior year non-allowable deductions claimed this year and print the amount in Box 17D.

If you have an amount in Box 17C, add this to Box 17B and put the total in Box 17E.

If you have an amount in Box 17D, subtract this from Box 17B and put the total in Box 17E.

If you don't have any amounts in Box 17C or Box 17D, copy the amount from Box 17B to 17E.

You can find more information about LTCs in our guide Look-through companies (IR879).

Question 19 New Zealand rents

If you received any income from rents between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, show it at Question 19.

Prepare a summary of the details for each rental property. You can use either:

- a Rental income (IR3R) form, or
- your own summary.

If you prepare your own summary, we need the following details:

- the address of the rented property
- the number of months it was available for renting
- total rents before expenses
- rates
- insurance
- interest

- agents' collection fees
- repairs and maintenance
- depreciation and contents
- total rents after expenses (your net rents).

These details are explained fully in our guide Rental income (IR264).

Ongoing expenses

Claim ongoing expenses, such as rates, insurance and interest, in proportion to the number of months the property was available for renting. For example, if the property was available for 10 months, you can claim $\frac{10}{12}$ ths of these expenses.

Repairs and maintenance

You can claim property and plant repairs and maintenance but not additions or improvements - these may be depreciated. If your property has been classed as a leaky home please contact us, see page 3. Note that depreciation on most buildings is no longer claimable. This generally covers buildings with an estimated useful life of 50 years or more.

NRWT

Where interest is claimed as an expense and is paid to an overseas lender on a mortgage over land in New Zealand, it must have NRWT deducted and paid to Inland Revenue - unless the Malaysia or Singapore double tax agreements apply. See our NRWT payer's guide (IR291) for more help.

What to show in your return

Add up the net rent (rent after expenses) and print the total in Box 19. Staple the IR3R or your summary to the top of page 3 of your IR3NR. Keep your receipts with your records in case we ask to see them later.

Question 20 New Zealand self-employed income

If you received any income from self-employment between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, show it at Question 20.

Prepare a summary of details

You can use:

- your financial records
- the Farming income (IR3F) form for agricultural businesses
- the Business income (IR3B) form for other businesses
- the Financial statements summary (IR10) form.

Staple one of the above forms to page 3 of your return and print profit (net income) in Box 20.

IR10

The Financial statements summary (IR10) is a short form of the financial statements of a business. Use an IR10 and speed up processing of the return. We don't need a set of financial accounts if you use the IR10. You still need to complete a set of financial accounts and keep them in case we ask for them later. For help with filling out the IR10, please see our IR10 guide (IR10G).

Keep your receipts with your records in case we ask to see them too.

Question 21 Other New Zealand income

If you received any other income between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, show it at Question 21. This includes:

- the sale of land and/or buildings
- the sale of shares or other property
- the sale or redemption of securities
- cash jobs, tips, payments made "under the table", bartering or income from an illegal enterprise.

Income from the sale of land and/or buildings

The profits are taxable if you bought a property for the purpose of reselling it, or are in the business of buying and selling land and/or buildings.

If you purchased a property on or after 1 October 2015 and sold/disposed of it before the end of the income year, any profit will be taxable, even if you didn't intend to sell when you purchased it.

The profits may also be taxable if you:

- are a builder and improved a property before selling it
- developed or subdivided land and sold sections
- had a change of zoning on your property and sold it within 10 years of buying it.

Print the total profit in Box 21.

Complete a Property sale information (IR833) form for each property sold/disposed of and include it with the return. The form explains how to calculate and correctly return the resulting profit or loss. You can download the form from our website www.ird.govt.nz (search keyword: IR833). Complete the form even if the details have been included in a Financial statements summary (IR10) or set of accounts.

If you're not sure whether your income from the sale of land and/or buildings is taxable, please contact us, see page 3.

Income from the sale of shares or other property

The profits are taxable if you bought:

- and sold shares or other property as a business
- shares or other property for the purpose of resale.

Print the total profit in Box 21. Attach a note with the details of your income and expenses from these sales to the top of page 3 of your IR3NR.

If you're not sure if your income from the sale of shares or other property is taxable, please contact us, see page 3.

Sale or disposal of assets

If you sold or disposed of a depreciated asset for more than its adjusted tax value, please read our guides Depreciation (IR260), General depreciation rates (IR265) or Historic depreciation rates (IR267).

Losses from the sale of land, buildings, shares or other property

If you made a loss and can show that if you'd made a profit it would have been taxable, you may be able to claim the loss as a deduction. If the property was purchased on or after 1 October 2015 with no intention to sell and it was sold/disposed of before the end of the income year, any excess deductions can't be claimed unless they can be offset against net income from other property sales. The Property sale information (IR833) form has more information on this.

For more information on property sales see our guide Buying and selling residential property (IR313).

Enter the loss in Box 21.

If you're not sure if you can claim a deduction for a loss, please contact us, see page 3.

Investments in portfolio investment entities (PIEs)

If you have an investment in certain PIEs that use their investor's prescribed investor rate (PIR) to calculate the PIE's income tax, you're required to use the 28% PIR for the 2016 income year. This will mean that the income does not get included in your tax return.

If the PIE has deducted tax at a lower PIR, you're required to pay the tax shortfall. You'll need to attach details to the return.

Question 23 Other expenses

If you had expenses against the income you earned between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2016, you can claim here for:

- a fee you paid someone for completing your return
- expenses incurred in earning certain income which tax has been deducted from
- additional expenses incurred in deriving partnership income, eg, interest on capital borrowed to purchase a share in the partnership
- premiums on loss of earnings insurance, provided the benefit from the insurance policy is taxable.

What to show in your return

Print the total of your expenses in Box 23. If you paid someone to complete your return, write the person's name in the panel provided. Attach a note with the details of other expenses and your name and IRD number to the top of page 3 of your IR3NR.

You can't claim expenses against:

- non-resident passive income, ie, interest, dividends, or royalties
- salary and/or wages
- taxable Māori authority distributions
- election day services
- casual agricultural work
- commissions if you're also paid a salary or retainer from the same employer.

If you're registered for GST:

- you must deduct any GST included in any gross schedular payment income, and
- you can't claim the GST portion of your expenses.

Question 25 Net losses brought forward

There are two types of net losses you can bring forward.

Specified activity net losses

If you're claiming specified activity net losses and need help with this question, please contact us, see page 3.

Other net losses

Other net losses are all those incurred from the 1991 income year onwards and those not limited before 1991.

Where to find your net loss to bring forward

You can find the amount of net loss you have to bring forward on the "Loss/excess imputation credits carried forward" letter we sent you after your 2015 notice of assessment or return acknowledgement. If you don't have this letter, contact us and we'll send it to you.

What to show in your return

Add up all net losses to be brought forward to 2016 and print the total in Box 25A. Print the net loss amount you can claim this year in Box 25B.

Excess imputation credits brought forward

You can bring forward any excess imputation credits you received while you were resident in New Zealand because these can be offset against the tax payable on your other income.

If you have excess imputation credits to bring forward, you can find the amount on the "Loss/excess imputation credits carried forward" letter we sent you after your 2015 year return acknowledgement or notice of assessment.

To claim these credits, attach a note to the front of your return.

Refunds and/or transfers

Question 29 Getting a refund?

If you're entitled to a refund, you may:

- have it direct credited to the New Zealand bank account shown at Question 7 or other deposit account, eg, a building society account shown at Question 7
- transfer all or part of it to cover someone else's income tax debit
- transfer all or part of it to pay your 2017 provisional tax
- receive it by cheque. All cheques are issued in New Zealand currency.

If you've made payments towards your 2017 provisional tax and, after completing this return, you find that you have less or no provisional tax to pay, the overpayment can be included in the amount we refund or transfer. Print the overpaid amount in Box 29B.

Direct credit

If you choose direct credit you get your refund faster and you can withdraw your money as soon as it's credited because there's no clearance time.

We pay any refund direct into your New Zealand bank account as soon as we've processed your return. Make sure your correct account number is printed at Question 7 on the front page of your return.

Refunds of less than $5

If your refund is less than $5 it'll be carried forward to your next tax assessment. We'll offset it against any amount you may owe us or add it to any future refund.

Transfers

If you'd like your refund transferred to another account or to arrears being paid off through an instalment arrangement, you'll need to tell us the date you'd like your excess tax transferred (the "transfer date").

The date you can choose depends on what tax has been overpaid and whose account you want the credit transferred to.

For more information on the rules for working out the date the transfer is available, please refer to the tables: at www.ird.govt.nz (search keywords: credit transfers)

Requesting transfers on your return

You can ask us to transfer a refund to another account by filling out the boxes on page 5 of your return. If you ask for a transfer on your return, we'll transfer your refund at one of the following dates:

Transfer to your own account or an account of someone associated to you, the later of:

- the day after your balance date (or 1 April if your balance date is before 31 March), or
- the due date in the destination account.

Transfer to an account of someone not associated to you:

- the day after your return was filed.

If you don't tell us the date you'd like your credit transferred, we'll transfer it at a date we think gives you the greatest advantage. If you'd like the credit transferred at a different date, you can contact us and ask for the transfer date to be changed (including if we've transferred your credit to cover a debt).

Associated taxpayers

The following are associated taxpayers for the purposes of transferring overpaid tax:

- a company you're a shareholder-employee in
- a partner in the same partnership
- a relative (eg, child, parent)
- spouse or partner
- a trustee of a family trust you're a beneficiary of.

Transfers requiring a separate note attached to the return

If you are requesting a transfer at a future date, transfer to arrears being paid off by an instalment arrangement and transfers at a different date, you will need to attach a note with the below details to the top of page 3 of your return:

- the amount you want transferred
- the account you want it transferred to, eg: name, IRD number, tax type and period end date (and if it's another person whether they're associated)
- the date you'd like the credit transferred
- if it is to be transferred to debt covered by an instalment arrangement.

Are you entitled to an early payment discount?

The early payment discount is available for people who:

- are new in business, and
- haven't yet begun to pay provisional tax, and
- in the case of a standard balance date taxpayer, have made a payment or payments on or before 31 March 2016 for income tax for the period 1 April 2015 to 31 March 2016.

The discount is calculated at the rate of 6.7% of the lesser of either:

- the amount paid during the year, or
- 105% of your end-of-year residual income tax

and is credited against your end-of-year tax bill.

To check if you qualify, work through the flowchart on the next page.

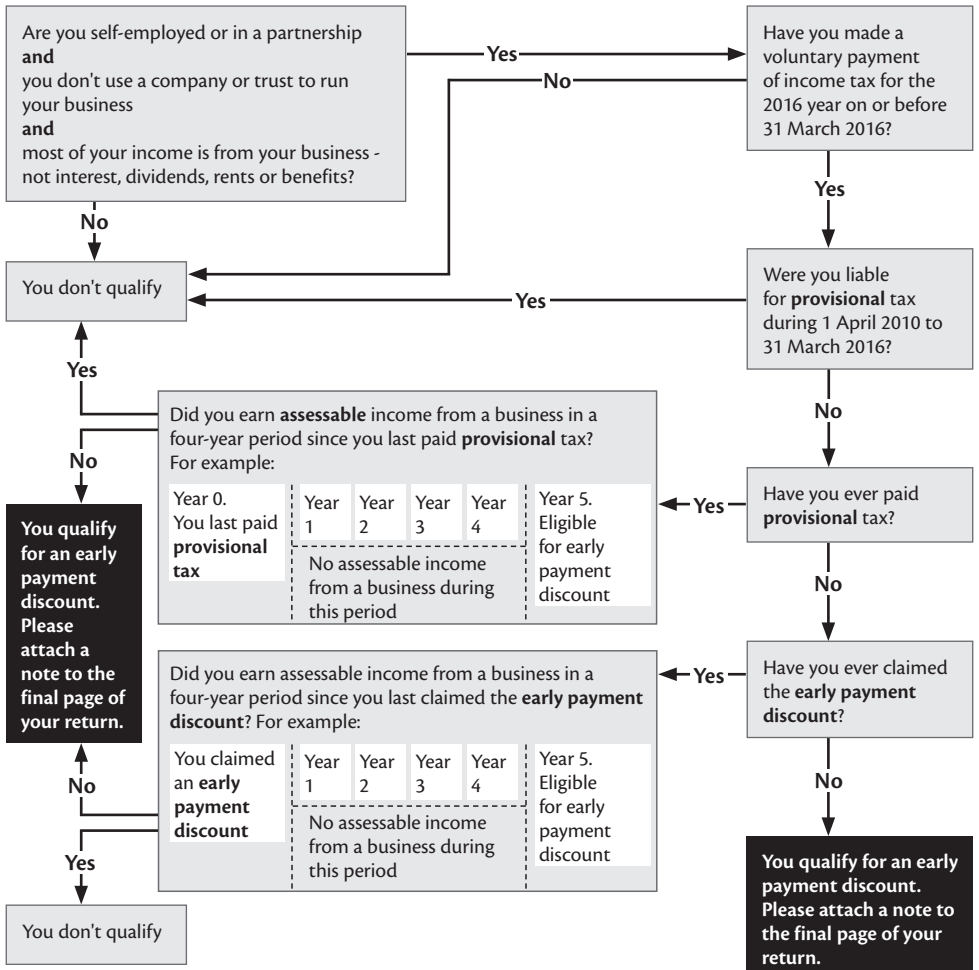

Terms we use

Provisional tax - this is tax paid in instalments during the year, based on what you expect your income to be, or what it was last year.

Assessable income - income that is not exempt income or excluded income (eg, a government grant to a business). Assessable income includes undeclared business income you may have earned (eg, cash jobs).

Year - as referred to in the diagram below, year means the standard tax year from 1 April to 31 March, unless you have an approved different balance date, in which case your income year will end then.

If you have any questions about your entitlement to the discount, please contact us.

Provisional tax

Question 30 Provisional tax

Provisional tax is generally payable because you earned income during the year that either:

- wasn't taxed, or
- was taxed at the wrong rate.

Provisional tax is usually payable in three instalments during the year. For example, if your 2016 residual income tax (RIT) (Box 28H of your return) is more than $2,500, you'll become a provisional tax payer and will be liable to pay 2017 provisional tax.

For more information see our guide Provisional tax (IR289).

Initial provisional tax liability

Special rules apply when interest may be charged for an initial provisional tax liability.

You will have an initial provisional tax liability if:

- you begin to derive income from a taxable activity during the tax year, and
- your RIT in any of the four preceding tax years didn't exceed $2,500, and
- your RIT for the current year is $50,000 or more.

If this applies to you, please read our guide Provisional tax (IR289).

The date you cease employment determines when interest will be charged from.

You are not liable to pay provisional tax in the year you have an initial provisional tax liability. You may make voluntary payments to reduce your interest liability.

Payment dates

Provisional tax is payable on the instalment dates that fall more than 30 days after the date you ceased employment. If you have to pay provisional tax, you must pay it in:

- three equal instalments if you ceased employment more than 30 days before the first instalment date
- two equal instalments if you ceased employment 30 days or less before the first instalment date and more than 30 days before the second instalment date, or
- one instalment if you ceased employment 30 days or less before the second instalment date.

For the income year ending 31 March 2017, you'll pay:

- three equal instalments (28 August 2016, 15 January 2017 and 7 May 2017) if you ceased employment before 28 July 2016
- two equal instalments (15 January 2017 and 7 May 2017) if you ceased employment between 29 July and 16 December 2016
- one instalment (7 May 2017) if you ceased employment on or after 16 December 2016.

Standard provisional tax payment dates

If you have a standard balance date of 31 March your payment dates are usually:

First instalment	28 August 2016
Second instalment	15 January 2017
Third instalment	7 May 2017

Non-standard balance dates

If your balance dates differ from 31 March, your payment dates are the 28th of the month every 5th, 9th and 13th month following the balance date. For example, if your balance date is 30 June, your first provisional payment is due 28 November.

If you're registered for GST and file your returns six-monthly, or you choose the ratio option, these payment dates will alter. If this describes your situation please read our guide Provisional tax (IR289).

Payment options

You have three options for paying provisional tax - the standard option (S), the estimation option (E) or the ratio option (R).

Standard option

Under this option, your 2017 provisional tax is your 2016 RIT (where it is more than $2,500) plus 5%.

Note

If your RIT is over $50,000 special interest rules apply to you - please read our guide Provisional tax (IR289).

Use this worksheet to calculate your 2017 provisional tax using the standard option (S)

Copy your RIT from Box 28H of your return to Box 1.

1 ▶	$	<input type="text"/>	•	<input type="text"/>	00
------------	----	----------------------	---	----------------------	----

Multiply Box 1 by 0.05 (5%). Print your answer in Box 2.

2 ▶	$	<input type="text"/>	•	<input type="text"/>	00
------------	----	----------------------	---	----------------------	----

Add Box 2 to Box 1. Print your answer in Box 3. Box 3 is your 2017 provisional tax.

3 ▶	$	<input type="text"/>	•	<input type="text"/>	00
------------	----	----------------------	---	----------------------	----

Copy it to Box 30B of your return and print S in Box 30A.

Divide the amount in Box 3 by the number of times you pay provisional tax each year to get the amount you must pay for each instalment. Record this on page 28.

If you're filing your return after 28 August 2016 your instalment amounts may be different. Please read our guide Provisional tax (IR289).

Estimation option

Anyone can estimate their provisional tax. If you expect your 2017 RIT to be lower than your 2016 RIT, estimating will keep you from paying more than you have to.

Your estimate must be fair and reasonable at the time you make it, and at each instalment date. You can be charged a penalty and/or interest if you don't take reasonable care when you estimate your provisional tax.

If you've chosen to pay your 2017 provisional tax using the standard option, you can still estimate your provisional tax any time up to and including your final instalment date. Once you've chosen the estimation option you can't change back to the standard option in that income year. You can re-estimate any number of times up to and including your final instalment date. Your last estimate becomes final at this date.

Use this worksheet to calculate your 2017 provisional tax using the estimation option (E)

Print your estimated 2017 income in Box 1.

1	▶	$.
----------	---	----	--	---	--

Work out the tax on the amount in Box 1 (see page 19).
Print your answer in Box 2.

2	▶	$.	00
----------	---	----	--	---	----

Print your estimated 2016 credits, eg, tax credit, RWT deductions, in Box 3.

3	▶	$.	00
----------	---	----	--	---	----

Subtract Box 3 from Box 2. Print your answer in Box 4.
Box 4 is your 2017 provisional tax.

4	▶	$.	00
----------	---	----	--	---	----

Copy Box 4 to Box 30B of your return and print E in Box 30A.

Divide the amount in Box 4 by three to get the amount you must pay for each instalment. Record this on page 28.

If you're filing your return after 28 August 2016, your instalment amounts may be different. Please read our guide Provisional tax (IR289).

Ratio option

If you're GST registered you may qualify to use the ratio option to calculate your provisional tax.

Only enter "R" at Box 30A if you've already elected to use the ratio option. Your application to use the ratio option must be made by phone or in writing before the beginning of the income year you want to use it in.

If you've already elected to use the ratio option and want to continue using it enter "R" at Box 30A.

Read our guides Penalties and interest (IR240) and Provisional tax (IR289) for more information.

Question 31 Is your return for a part-year?

Read the situations listed in Question 31 in your return. If any apply to you, tick the "Yes" option, then tick the situation that applies to you and fill in the start and end dates of the return period.

Question 33 Notice of assessment and declaration

You must read the declaration and sign the return as being true and correct.

Self-assessment by taxpayers

Taxpayers are required to assess their own liability as part of meeting their return filing obligations. We may amend your assessment if a correction is required.

If you dispute our assessment please read our factsheet If you disagree with an assessment (IR778). The four-month period for you to issue a notice of proposed adjustment (NOPA) to the assessment will start on the date we receive your return.

Are there any penalties?

You may face penalties and prosecution if you:

- are required to put in a return but don't
- give false or misleading information (including not showing all your income)
- leave out details on purpose so the information is misleading
- file your return late.

Paying your tax

If you have tax to pay, you must pay it by 7 February 2017. If you have a tax agent and a standard balance date, you may have until 7 April 2017 - if this applies to you, please contact your agent. You can pay earlier if you want to.

If you haven't received a statement from us by the last day for payment, please pay the amount you've calculated. When you receive a statement of account showing the amounts we've calculated, check them against your figures. If you have any questions please contact us - see page 3.

How to make payments

Go to www.ird.govt.nz/pay to pay online or find out about these other payment options:

- making electronic payments
- using a credit or debit card
- posting a cheque (this must be received on or before the due date).

Or you can call us on 0800 775 247 or 64 3 951 2020 from overseas.

Late payment

We will charge you interest if you don't make your tax payment by the due date. We may also charge you a late payment penalty if you miss a payment, but if you have a good payment history with us we may contact you before we do this.

If your tax remains unpaid, we'll charge an initial 1% late payment penalty on the day after the due date. We'll charge a further 4% penalty if there's still an amount of unpaid tax (including penalties) seven days after the due date.

Every month the amount owing remains unpaid after the due date we'll charge a further 1% incremental penalty.

Interest and late payment penalties are not charged on outstanding amounts of $100 or less.

Arrangements

If you're unable to pay your tax by the due date, please call us. We'll look at your payment options, which may include an instalment arrangement, depending on your circumstances. Arrangements can be agreed on, before or after the due date for payment. There are greater reductions in the penalties charged if the arrangement is made before the due date.

For more help

See our guide Penalties and interest (IR240).
