

Residential land withholding tax (RLWT) declaration

This declaration is required when the following apply:

- you're selling/disposing of New Zealand residential property
- the purchase amount is paid/payable on or after 1 July 2016
- you purchased or acquired the property on or after 1 October 2015 through to 28 March 2018 and you are selling or disposing of the property within 2 years
- you purchased or acquired the property on or after 29 March 2018 through to 26 March 2021 and you are selling or disposing of the property within 5 years.
- you purchased or acquired the property on or after 27 March 2021 and you are selling or disposing of the property within 5 years if the entire property qualifies as a new build or within 10 years for all other properties

Note: See page 6 to determine if a property qualifies as a new build and to work out the dates of purchase/acquisition and sale/disposal. These dates are important as they determine whether RLWT should be deducted.

Notes

- If more than 1 person owns the property then each person selling or disposing of the property must complete their own IR1101. If the seller is a trust, estate, or company, then a single trustee, executor of the estate, or director of the company who is not an offshore RLWT person may complete this declaration on its behalf. Use the flowcharts on pages 4 and 5 to work out if this person is an offshore RLWT person or not.
- This declaration must be completed in English. There are notes on pages 6 and 7 to help you complete this declaration.
- You'll need to show your withholder the original or provide certified copies of all supporting documents you need to provide. In most cases your withholder will be your conveyancer. For more information see below.

Terms used in this declaration

- Withholder - the person required to deduct and pay an amount of residential land withholding tax in relation to the property sale proceeds on behalf of the seller.
- Conveyancer - for a seller or purchaser, the lawyer, incorporated law firm, conveyancing practitioner, or incorporated firm that provides conveyancing services (as that term is used in the Lawyers and Conveyancers Act 2006) to the seller or purchaser using a New Zealand-based trust account.

Date property purchased or acquired – to determine which bright-line period applies

For tax purposes, a property is generally acquired on the date a binding sale and purchase agreement is entered into (even if some standard conditions like getting finance or a building report still need to be met). This determines which bright-line period applies. Full information on when a property is acquired see our Question we've been asked (QB) 17/02: Date of acquisition of land, and start date for 2-year bright-line test at taxtechnical.ird.govt.nz

A property acquired on or after 27 March 2021 will be treated as having been acquired before 27 March 2021, if the purchase was the result of an offer the purchaser made on or before 23 March 2021 and that offer could not be withdrawn before 27 March 2021. This means that the 5-year bright-line period applies.

New build

A self-contained dwelling can qualify for the 5-year bright-line period for new builds, if it meets one of the following requirements:

- For an existing new build, you must have acquired it no later than 12 months after the Code Compliance Certificate (CCC) was issued for that new build under the Building Act 2004.
- Where you made an off-the-plans purchase for a new build, the CCC confirming the dwelling was added to the land must be issued by the time you sold the land.
- Where you constructed a new build on land you own, the CCC confirming the dwelling was added to the land must be issued by the time the land is sold.

An existing building can also qualify as a new build to the extent it is a self-contained dwelling, in the following situations:

- Has been removed from the earthquake prone buildings register on or after 27 March 2020, provided there is proof the remediation has been completed (either in the form of a CCC being issued on or after this date, or local or building consent authority records show the work has been completed and verified by a suitably qualified engineer on or after this date).
- Has previously had weathertightness issues but has been at least 75% reclad, provided it has received a CCC for the re-clad on or after 27 March 2020.
- Has been converted from a commercial premises, provided a CCC is issued on or after 27 March 2020 confirming the conversion has been completed.
- Has been converted from a hotel or motel, provided local or building consent authority records show the conversion was completed on or after 27 March 2020.
- Is part of a building that contains two or more dwellings that were converted from a single dwelling, provided a CCC confirming the conversion has been completed is issued on or after 27 March 2020.

In all cases, the new build must still be on the land when it is sold otherwise the 10-year bright-line period applies.

Note: For properties acquired on or after 27 March 2021, where the residential land has a new build and a non-new build on the same legal title, RLWT applies to the full sale price if it is sold within 10 years

Dates of purchase/acquisition and sale/disposal – to determine the start date and end date for the bright-line period

Type of purchase/acquisition	Date to use
Purchase/acquisition of property	Date of registration with Land Information New Zealand (LINZ)
Purchase/acquisition where no registration occurs prior to the sale/disposal date	Latest date that you acquired an interest in the property
Acquiring property by way of subdivision of property where registration of the undivided property has occurred prior to the sale/disposal date	The original date of registration for the undivided property
Acquiring property by way of subdivision of property where no registration of the undivided property occurs prior to the sale/disposal date	The latest date you acquired an interest in the undivided land
Land acquired as the result of the completion of a land development or subdivision where acquisition was contingent upon completion	The date you acquired an interest in the property
Freehold estate converted from a lease with a perpetual right of renewal	The date the leasehold estate was granted

Notes to help you complete this form

Type of sale/disposal	Date to use
Sale, transfer, or disposal of property under an agreement	Date you entered into an agreement for sale, transfer, or disposal
Gifting of property	Date the gift was made
Compulsory acquisition by the Crown, a local authority, or a public authority	Date of compulsory acquisition
Mortgagee sale	Date the property is disposed of, by, or for the mortgagee as a result of the mortgagor's default
Disposals not covered above	Date you disposed of the property

Note: If more than 1 type of sale/disposal applies - use the earliest date.

Purchase amount – to determine when the liability for RLWT occurs

Type of payment	RLWT liability occurs when:
Monetary	50% or more of the sale price has been paid to the seller or the seller's conveyancer
Gifting	the gift becomes effective

For other situations you'll need to talk to a tax professional.

Limited partnership

If the seller is a limited partnership, apply under its IRD number. A separate declaration is not needed from each partner that is an offshore RLWT person. One of the general partners who is not an offshore RLWT person must sign the form.

Description of property

If the land being disposed of has a Certificate of Title number show this. If there is no Certificate of Title number, show 1 of the descriptions in the following table.

Description of property	Include with your application a copy of:
Leasehold title	the lease
Allocated number/letter	the plan or similar, for example subdivision or survey plan, showing the property and the part being disposed of with the allocated number/letter
Other description, for example, a survey plan (not the address)	similar documentation to the above that shows the property and the part being disposed of with the description

Share of property

This is your share (as a percentage) of the property you are selling/disposing of.

- In most cases this will be an equal share (100% / number of owners) of the property, for example 2 persons jointly owning the property will have a 50% share each.
- If ownership is not equally divided then you will need to provide evidence to your withholder.
- If you're selling/disposing of part of your share, state the amount of the total, for example, disposing of half of a half-share is 25% of the total.

Associated persons

Associated persons

There are a number of tests used to work out if 2 persons are associated for RLWT transactions.

For example, you're associated where you're buying or selling:

- to an individual and they are:
  - your spouse, civil union or de facto partner
  - within two degrees of blood relationship to you, your spouse, or civil union or de facto partner.
- a company where:
  - you hold 25% or more of the voting rights or market value interest (the company and individual or entity other than a company test)
  - your spouse or children hold 25% of the voting rights or market value interest (the aggregation test)
  - where the combined holdings under all these rules total 25% or more market value interest. For example if you hold 10% of the shares in a company, your children hold 10%, and your family trust also holds 10%, then you are associated to the company.
- a look-through company where:
  - you have a look-through interest in the company, and you are either a director or employee of the company
  - you have not or are not any of the above, but have a look-through interest of 25% or more.
- a partnership that you are a partner of.
- a limited partner in a limited partnership and have a 25% or more share in a right, obligation, property, status, or thing of the limited partnership.

If you're a trustee of a trust you're associated when you're selling to or buying from:

- any settlor of the trust
- a trustee of another trust where the trusts have a common settlor (spouses are treated as a separate person)
- a person with power to appoint or remove trustees of the trust
- a beneficiary of the trust
- a beneficiary of the trust who is also related to you.

Two companies are associated when conducting a property transaction between them where:

- a group of persons total voting rights or market interest in each company are 50% or more
- a group of persons control both companies by any other means.

Aggregation rule

There are additional rules that combine your interests with the interests held by people you're associated to making you associated to another person.

The Tripartite test

If you are associated to a person under 1 of the above rules, and that person is then associated to a third person you are selling to under a different rule, then you are associated to that third-person. The only exception is if the association is by the 2 companies test, and the association to the third-party comes from a test that does not involve an individual.

For example you have control over 2 companies, Company A and Company B. These companies are associated to each other under the 2 companies test. Company A is the settlor of a trust where Peter is the beneficiary, so Peter is associated to Company A under the settlor and beneficiary test.

As Peter is associated to Company A, and Company A is also associated to Company B, then Peter and Company B will also be associated.

For more information about the association rules refer to our Tax and your property transactions - IR361 and A guide to associated persons definitions for income tax purposes - IR620 guides, or talk to a tax professional.
