RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CERTIFIER APPLICATION

To be an approved R&D certifier you must be a licensed auditor (as approved by the New Zealand Financial Markets Authority), or the firm must employ a licensed auditor.

The certifier will confirm expenditure is greater than $2 million per year and perform tests / review the business expenditure on the supplementary return to ensure the claim meets the eligibility tests in the legislation.

NOTES

Question 1 - IRD number

This is the IRD number of the applicant - not the person completing the form (unless they are one and the same)

Question 2 - Name of the applicant

Please give us the full, legal name of the person or business that is applying to be a certifier

Question 3 - Trade Name

If the business uses a Trade name (as opposed to their legal name) please fill this in. If a Trade name is not used leave blank

Question 4- Postal address

This is the residential/physical address of the business or the residential/physical place of abode for the business. It can be a Postbox number and is required information to support any claim. If not completed, we will contact you for this information

Question 5 - Principal contact person

These are the contact details for the person handling the certification of the applicants' claim. Inland Revenue will deal with this person in the first instance if any queries need to be resolved.

Question 6 - Names of Licensed Auditors

Any firm wishing to be a 'certifier' must have an Auditor within the firm. It is the auditor who will have overall responsibility for verifying the eligibility of the businesses claim.

Question 7 - Name(s) of Partners, Directors, or Principals who are authorised by the business to provide R&D certificates

If the firm is applying for Certifier status, we need to know the names of all partners, directors or Principals who have the authority to issue the certificate.

If you are an individual who wants to obtain Certifier status state your name only.

STATUTORY DECLARATION

Your statutory declaration confirms that you are competent in applying the appropriate legal and accounting standards that to the R&D tax credits.

Please complete all sections of the Statutory Declaration before submitting it to Inland Revenue. Once received we will process your application within 15 working days.
